COLLEGE

Next Saturday afternoon beginning at half past two in the parish house of Central Union church, will be held the Gleaners' Fair. Considerable interest is being expressed in the interesting event and it is expected that a large crowd will turn out. It is planned primarily for children but doubtless the grown-ups who attend will find plenty to interest them.

There are to be wonderful, enticing grabs, which the children never can resist, and glorious soap-bubble pipes and a whole big table full of doll clothes. But far more wonderful and inviting than all this, and something which grown-up children even do not outgrow, is the "Punch and Judy" show which is being offered. There will be a quantity of delicacies for sweets, and ice-cream and punch for those who prefer them. There is also to be a fancy work table which, they say, will contain just what you need and have been looking for in this line.

The young ladies in charge of the fair, have worked hard to make it a great success, and without doubt their efforts will be generously rewarded.

Theodore Dubois' famous cantata, "The Seven Last Words of Christ" was given last Sunday evening at Central Union church by the chorus of the Kamehameha schools, consisting of ninety voices. It was very beautifully rendered, while the white dresses of the girls and the blue-gray uniforms of the boys made a very effective and pleasing sight.

The church was filled and the congregation seemed quite impressed with the beauty of the cantata.

The success of the offering was due to Mr. George A. Andrus, who handled the difficult music in a very capable manner. Mrs. Charles L. Hall, who is very popular with Honolulu music lovers, sang the soprano solo parts. Mr. Andrus sang the tenor and Mr. C. G. Livingston, the baritone solo parts. All were in good voice and were greatly enjoyed.

The Moani Music club held its last meeting of the year at Mrs. W. H. Hoops' home on Waikiki street. Each member of the club was privileged to invite three guests to the recital so the house was well filled. The girls have been working up the event for some time, so that all the numbers were very good. Indeed, the program contains a list of names which have become quite well-known in musical circles, many of the young musicians giving promise of future greatness. The program was as follows:

1. Love's Waltz Moszkowski
Stella Hoogs.
2. Twilight Margaret Lang
Aileen Gibb.
3. Hungarian Dance MacDowell
Gertrude Turner.
4. Impromptu in E Flat Schubert
Peggy Campbell.
5. Moonlight Sketches Esther Gronow
Berenson.

On the Water.

6. Genevieve Young.
7. Reading—Hilwalia's Woeing.
Rosette G. Cole.
8. Beth Woods and Julia Campbell.
9. Prerette Chahunade
Ruth Anderson.
10. Liebestraum No. 3 Liezt
Dorothy Hoogs.
11. Valse Hollaender
Glenn McCracken.

An additional pleasure of the afternoon was the playing of Miss Ayis Yates, a young violinist of exceptional ability.

At the close of the program, delightful refreshments were served, and a very happy and successful afternoon was brought to a close.

The Punahou students who are taking part in the big out-of-doors production of Shakespeare's "Love's Labor's Lost," which takes place on the 22d and 23d, are rehearsing diligently on their parts. At present, they are rehearsing in sections, under the direction of Mrs. Isaac M. Cox, who expects to begin working on the play as a whole in a few days.

Albert Tuttle has been cast for Ferdinand and is doing well with the part. John O'Dowd, Frank Winter and Parker Woods will be lords attending on the king, and Ernest Heen and Joseph Farrington will be lords attending on the princess of France. Closson Emory will impersonate the fantastical Spaniard, Don Adriano De Armando; Harvey Hitchcock, the curate; Lorin Thurston, the schoolmaster; Goodale Mair, the constable; David Withington, the clown; Ynez Gibson, page to Armando, and Stafford Austin, a forester.

Miss Ruth Soper, who has shown decided dramatic ability in past productions, will be the princess of France and the Misses Beth Woods, Esme Damon, and Katherine Johnson will be the ladies attending on the princess. Miss Ruth Farrington will impersonate Jaquenetta, a country wench.

With such a list of experienced actors and actresses as this play should be one of the best things that Punahou has done for some time past.

The biggest event during the last few days was Mr. Harold Bauer's superb entertainment on last Saturday evening. Those who heard the great pianist were surprised at and grand with his remarkable technique, his artistic interpretations and his pleasing personality. We are not so often favored with such a distinguished musician that his presence is not noted and appreciated. Mr. and Mrs. Bauer have been entertaining considerably during their brief stay in Honolulu, although for the most part the efforts have been impromptu and informal.

Mr. and Mrs. James Wilder have been dinner hosts to Mr. and Mrs. Bauer on several occasions besides entertaining them at their home on Tantalus.

Mrs. Carl Hedemann was hostess at a very enjoyable musical tea Monday afternoon in honor of the celebrated visitor and his wife. It was a very informal affair. Mrs. Hedemann inviting a few of her musical friends to meet Mr. Bauer. An unpretentious but most delightful little program was given in which several local musicians took part. At the completion of this tea was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Love had planned a musical evening in honor of Mr. Bauer, but this had to be cancelled owing to the departure of the visitors. They left yesterday for a few days at the volcano, after which they will return to Honolulu before leaving for Australia which is their destination.

On Monday evening, the University Club was the scene of Mr. Andrew Adams' most interesting exhibition of prints. In the collection are fifty very fine prints which include samples of wood engraving of the early sixteenth, the middle nineteenth and the present centuries, portrait engraving in line of the late seventeenth century, and portrait engraving in mezzotint of the middle and late nineteenth and the present centuries, etching and drypoint of the nineteenth century, and contemporary etching. Among the artists represented are: Sir Francis Seymour Haden, Jean-Francois Millet, Albrecht Durer, Henry Wolf, James A. McNeill Whistler, Charles Francois Daubigny, Felix Bracquemond, Auguste Lepere, William Ward and Jules Jacquemart whom Hamerton calls "the most marvelous etcher of still life who has ever existed in the world."

The opening evening of the exhibition on Monday was very successful, a great many of the University society folk appearing during the evening. All enjoyed the pictures and also the delicious refreshments which were served. The exhibition will continue throughout the week.

Another engagement has just been announced which is of considerable interest. Mrs. Charles H. Heller, Jr., was hostess last Saturday afternoon at a tea in honor of her sister, Miss Zoe Watkins. The occasion of the tea was the announcing of the engagement of Miss Watkins to Mr. H. Stuart Johnson. The rooms and the tables were prettily decorated in pink and green.

Those present were: Mrs. Edith Longley, Mrs. F. E. Blake, Miss Orpha Starratt, Miss Mabel Armstrong, Miss McCarthy, Miss Laura Topham, Miss Aileen McCarthy, Miss Evangeline Holmes, Miss Evelyn Scott, Miss Maud Martin, Miss Anna Johnson, Miss Julia Peabody, Miss Mabel Lightfoot, Miss Zoe Watkins, and Mrs. Heller, Jr.

Miss Irene Aiken was hostess at a very informal little supper at the Kuhaia bathhouse the other evening. After supper and a swim, one of the barges was taken out and a gorgeous moonlight row enjoyed. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Corbaley, Mr. William Morgan, Miss Foster, Mr. Harold Starratt, and Miss Aiken.

On last Thursday evening, the White House was once more the scene of a most interesting wedding. At six o'clock Miss Eleanor Randolph Wilson, the youngest daughter of the President, became the bride of Mr. William Gibbs McAdoo, secretary of the treasury and a member of President Wilson's cabinet. The wedding was solemnized in the historic blue room and was a very simple affair, although a very impressive one. There were present besides the couple themselves, only the President and Mrs. Wilson and relatives of the bride and bridegroom, Vice-President and Mrs. Thomas R. Marshall, and the members of the president's cabinet and their wives.

Mrs. McAdoo is the fourteenth bride to be married in the White House and is the fifth daughter of a President to have been married there. Her sister, Mrs. Sayre, who was married about eight months ago, was the fourth.

The students of the College of Hawaii are planning to observe Class Day this year for the first time in the history of the institution, and hope to make the event an annual affair. Thursday evening, May 28, has been decided upon as the date, and the entertainment will be given in the students assembly room at the college. Miss Miriam Clark who is graduating in the department of science will write the class "Prophecy," and a "Will" is also being prepared by one of the other members of the class. The affair is in the hands of the senior class, consisting of Miss Miriam Clark, Mr. William Barnhart and Mr. Paul Lemke, and the college social committee consisting of Miss Irene Aiken, Miss Laura Aberton and Miss Dorothy Rabb.

A most enjoyable supper dance was enjoyed at the Hotel Aubrey last Saturday evening by a number of Kahuiku people who motored down. After a delicious supper, the late quintet rendered bright and lively dance music, and dancing was enjoyed for the remainder of the evening. Later they motored home through the glorious moonlight and along perhaps the most beautiful stretch of road around the island. Those who composed the party were Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Christoferson, Miss Dagmar Olsen, Miss Bees Van Eaton, Miss Mary Christopherson, Miss Francis Foster, Mr. Walter Hoey, Mr. Herbert Clemens, Mr. Edward Lyons and Mr. Walter Johnson.

Mrs. Henry B. Restarick has sent out cards for an afternoon at home on Thursday, May 14, from three to six to meet Mrs. John E. Baird of Philadelphia. Mrs. Baird came to the islands recently for a visit but was so impressed with the climate and the beautiful place that she has purchased a permanent residence here.

A large and most brilliant military dance was given last Saturday night at the Haleiwa Hotel for the officers of Schofield Barracks and their wives. There was a very large attendance and the beautiful rooms and lovely wide lanai of the hotel were thronged with distinguished-looking officers and gorgeously gowned ladies throughout the evening.

Mr. Mischa Elman, the famous Russian violinist, accompanied by his father, Mr. Paul Elman, arrived in Honolulu yesterday on the Wilhelmnia. Society in general and the musical few in particular are anticipating Mr. Elman's concerts on Thursday and Saturday nights with the keenest interest.

A meeting of the College club was held Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Walter F. Frear on Punahou street. Important business was discussed after which delicious refreshments were served and a sociable half hour enjoyed.

Lieut. and Mrs. Frank Applin entertained the Fort Ruger Club last Saturday evening. After a most interesting evening of bridge a delightful little Dutch supper was served.

Mr. William Roti was a passenger on last Wednesday's Matsonia. He is bound for San Francisco, where his marriage to Miss Lurline Matson will take place in the near future.

Mrs. A. C. Hodgins, entertained a few friends informally at tea on Friday afternoon at her beach home at Kaula. A very pleasant afternoon was enjoyed by all present.

Lieut. and Mrs. John D. Reardon and Lieut. and Mrs. Jerome G. Pillow were brief visitors at the Aubrey Hotel, Hauula lately. As were also Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Brown.

Mr. George W. Bates and his sister, Miss Laura D. Bates were arrivals on the Wilhelmnia yesterday from San Francisco. They expect to remain here for a short visit.

The regular Country Club dance is being given tonight and as there are no other large dancing parties this week it is expected that a large crowd will attend.

Mrs. Charles Crane returned last Saturday from an extended visit with her mother, Mrs. C. H. Jennings, at Hilo.

Mrs. Carr and Miss Marjorie Carr left for their home in Cleveland, Ohio, on the Matsonia last Wednesday.

Mrs. L. Buttles, who has spent several months visiting in Honolulu, left last Wednesday on the Matsonia.

Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Graham were the guests last week of Mr. and Mrs. T. Edgar Robinson at Kaula.

WASHINGTON SOCIETY

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)
WASHINGTON, May 2.—Mr. and Mrs. Gerald G. O'Brien of Pittsburgh have formally announced the engagement of their eldest daughter, Helen Hearn O'Brien, and Count Massimiliano Colacicchi, a member of the pontifical noble guard. Miss O'Brien was educated at Mount de Chantal, later studying for two years at Trinita del Monti, in Rome, in which city she met her fiancé. She is a granddaughter of the late Maj. James Hearn, U. S. A., and a niece of the late Col. Lawrence Hearn of the 3d Infantry. Miss O'Brien is a splendid horsewoman, and is fond of out-of-door sports. She is also a talented musician and a fine linguist. Her mother is prominent in philanthropic circles. When the wedding takes place in the late summer the count will be the first noble guard to marry in America. He was in Pittsburgh in January. He accompanied Mrs. O'Brien and her daughter on a trip to Central America this winter and returned to Rome the middle of March. His father, the late Count Edouardo, and grandfather, the late Count Stanislao, were lieutenant-generals in the guard.

JEWELRY VERY CHEAP AT BAZAAR NIPPON

That sacrifice sale at the Bazaar Nippon, in Postoffice Alley, is causing some beautiful Japanese jewelry to go into purchasers' hands very cheaply. Fine damascened gold brooches, hairpins, cigarette cases, shoe and belt buckles, bar pins, scarf pins, cuff links, etc., are selling at about fifty per cent of their value. There are some real Satsuma hairpins, too—say nothing of the silks, crepes, parasols, slippers, bags, purses, long and short kimonos, etc. Ladies are finding that a little money serves to bring them some very beautiful articles.—advertisement.
